Our Story

Kaleo coffee is a first class, fully operational coffeehouse that seeks to serve the community in Dover N.H. We hope that you feel at home when you are here! We serve coffee with a cause. "Coffee with a cause" is not just a catchy phrase or slogan - it is the entire reason for the existence of Kaleo Coffee. Kaleo serves only certified fair-trade, organic coffee and a large portion of the money collected through sales is returned to the community in the form of adoption assistance for local families and a variety of local community projects. The coffee that you buy will help farmers across the globe make a sustainable living for their families and will also improve your local community at the same time.

We are owned and operated by Next Level Church, a multi-site church with locations throughout New England. We are convinced that people don't care what you claim to know until they know how much you care, and this coffee house is all about showing love to this community. Kaleo was opened in June of 2010 and it's existence will leave a legacy of change rather than riches.
